Ways to work with us

Start with a roadmap. Then choose how much we do.

Crads-AI is a free, open-source AI assistant built on Claude. It runs on your own server or computer, learns how your business works, and takes on the jobs you repeat every week.

AI roadmap

30 min + written report + 30 min · 1:1 on video

- A call through every pain point in your week, properly, into the weeds.
- A written report: where AI could help, and what we'd start with.
- A second call to go through it together. The report is yours to keep.

Reading the dots

● We do it ◐ You do it, with us · Not included

Membership, and how we get in

A weekly drop-in call and Slack answers within a working day, A$99 a month after the included first month. For done for you, you approve a helper request in the app: it names the person, ends on a timer, and you can end it any time.

What you pay for separately

Your Claude subscription, and your hosting bill if it runs on a server, paid straight to them. What you type goes to Claude (Anthropic). We never hold your data, and setup sessions aren't recorded.
